

4. Doktorandentagung

Plan my Future

21.11. – 24.11.2024 | Cologne

JOHANNES GUTENBERG
UNIVERSITÄT MAINZ

Dear Doktorand*innen,

This "Tagung" is intended to help you progress in your doctoral studies and to give you the opportunity to exchange ideas with other doctoral students, to learn from each other and to discuss "problems" (if there are any) among like-minded people on your way to a successful doctorate.

We want to meet in an interesting place - this time in Cologne at the Sporthochschule Köln, where I started my habilitation (2002-2003). Cologne is a great university town for sports science, a sports town and always worth a visit!

We will have a great programme with a mix of interesting (new) methods, practical learning, short presentations, meeting guests and of course the presentations and discussion of your current works.

We also like to do some sports - please bring your gym shoes. Then we will go out to typical Cologne restaurants and later we will end the day with an "Absacker". Hopefully we will spend some time with the PhD students of our host Prof. Dr. Sebastian Uhrich!

Our host Prof. Dr. Sebastian Uhrich has also offered us some space to work alone. Our other guests are Dr. Stefan Walzel (DSHS Handball Management), Dr. Andreas Höfer (Director of the German Olympic and Sports Museum), Dr. Ansgar Molzberger (DSHS Olympic Archive), Prof. Dr. Jürgen Mittag (Sports Policy) and Uschi Schmitz (Hockey World Champion 1976, EOC Board Member, former General Secretary of the German Hockey Federation and former DOSB Vice President), who will contribute to our interesting discussions and exchanges. We have also invited Prof. Dr. Manfred Lämmer, Prof. Dr. Markus Kurscheidt.

I am very much looking forward to seeing you all.

Yours,

Format „Challenge and Defence“

In preparation for the conference, each PhD student has to read the latest paper/research of another PhD student (see matching above). Everyone must also upload their (unfinished) paper so that everyone has all the papers. Each challenge and defence lasts 40 minutes.

10 minutes for the author to present

- 1) research question (how you found it, why is it important, what is the expected result)
- 2) methodology used (methodology = explanation of the whole research design, not just the method = tool)
- 3) main obstacles encountered during writing
- 4) intended journal and plan b journal chosen and why.

10 minutes for the challenger to critique (positively and negatively) the work as it is. The author may take notes but may not reply.

5 minutes exclusively for the author to answer and add information.

15 minutes of open debate - we do a kind of collective brainstorming and ask further questions, express ideas we have, formulate obstacles we see.

Format „Elevator Pitch“

Everyone should

1) introduce themselves in 60 seconds

2) present their doctoral thesis in 120 seconds

This will be followed by a short question and answer session (max. 2 questions) and thus 2 min.

Depending on the number of doctoral students who will be there, we can adjust the time a little.
